

Current Opportunities with PWA

PWA is seeking talented professionals who are interested in careers in planning, design and management of water-related natural environments to achieve the protection, enhancement, and restoration of coastal and riverine ecosystems. We offer significant opportunities for professional and technical advancement in a cooperative and supportive work environment. We are currently interviewing for several openings in the following positions in our San Francisco and Sacramento offices:

Civil Engineer/Hydrologist (Ref: 08-FL-HYD-SF or 08-FL-HYD-SC)

PWA is seeking individuals for multiple positions in our San Francisco and Sacramento offices who will provide hydrologic and hydraulic modeling support for creek restoration and flood management projects. We are seeking entry level candidates with master's degrees. Professional consulting experience is valued but not essential for this position.

Coastal Engineer (Ref: 08-CE-PM)

PWA is seeking a Coastal Engineer for beach, coastal lagoon and wetland restoration projects in our San Francisco office, including design, process studies and supporting analysis. The successful individual will carry-out studies on shoreline management, flood mapping, beach restoration, tidal inlet analysis, and design of shore and wetland restoration. We are seeking a candidate with a M.S. degree, or higher, with 4+ years progressive consulting and project management experience and a P.E. license.

Fluvial Geomorphologist or Sediment Transport Engineer (Ref: 08-FG-PM)

PWA is seeking individuals with a specialty in Fluvial Geomorphology or Sediment Transport to be the technical Task Leader and/or Project Manager on river and floodplain restoration projects, multi-objective flood management plans, sediment studies, watershed assessments, and channel stabilization projects in our San Francisco office. We are seeking a candidate with a M.S. degree, or higher with 4+ years of consulting and project management experience.
